Better politicians

Canadians all across the country have been objecting to the increased indemnities for members of the House of Commons, but actually, in the final analysis, Canada's M.P.'s will not be receiving a great deal more than they would have if there were two sessions of parliament in one year. In addition the cost involved is a sound investment in good government.

Members are paid on the per-session basis. In other words, if there are two sessions of parliament in one year, as has been the case in recent years, members collect two indemnities. Under the new setup a member receives a "guaranteed" annual salary, payable monthly.

There can be no government better than the men who administer it, no law wiser than the lawmakers. And the clear fact is that Canadian politics are attracting less and less of the kind of men they need in the legislature and the executive.

The main reason is obvious. Unless a man is rich or poor, the average Canadian simply cannot afford to enter politics. He cannot spend at least half his year at Ottawa, maintain a home far away and pay heavy personal expenses in return for a taxable indemnity of $4,000 plus an untaxed personal allowance of $2,000. The rich man can afford it because he does not have to live on his indemnity. A poor man may earn more in Parliament than he could earn outside it. But to the man of ordinary means, the kind of man we need in parliament, politics usually means financial disaster. That is why so many of our older politicians die broke.

It is impossible, however, to reckon the pay of legislators by the rewards of private business. Politics cannot afford to compete with business in that sense. If the pay of legislators was raised to that of business—for work of corresponding responsibility—we would end by making political life a business managed by a class of professionals.

Such has never been the purpose of the British parliamentary system, which seeks, on the contrary, to make a parliament the composite mirror of all classes, interests and occupations. To this end, parliamentary indemnities have never been regarded as salaries but only as compensation for time lost in private life.

The former indemnity scale was inadequate because it failed to offer anything like sufficient compensation for these losses. A western member finds it almost impossible to maintain a decent standard of living in Ottawa and at the same time keep a home in his own constituency. As a result over and over again, all political parties have to nominate inferior candidates because they cannot find capable men or women willing to run.

A modest increase in indemnities is therefore warranted and desirable in the interests of the whole democratic process.

The only disturbing feature of the bill is that Canadian senators have moved in on the act. On what grounds they can justify increased remuneration remains beyond our comprehension.

FIRST SERVICE CLUB

Resume of Gyro achievements given as local organization celebrates 30th anniversary

The Kelowna Gyro Club, the first service club to be formed in the Orchard City, observed its thirtieth anniversary here on Tuesday. Present for the occasion was the club's first president, Dr. H. Bruce MacEwen, of New Westminster, along with six charter members.

R. G. Rutherford, the club's first secretary, and past president, of Gyro International, gave a brief resume of the outstanding achievements accomplished by Gyros since it was founded in 1923. Mr. Rutherford recalled that the charter was granted on February 14, 1924 and officers installed by R. Rowe Holland of Vancouver, then first president of Gyro International, and later International president.

No other service club perhaps has taken a more active interest in the development of the city. In giving a "Review of Thirty Years of Gyro in Kelowna," Mr. Rutherford pointed out there were 28 charter members in 1924 and a total of 133 local citizens have joined the ranks of Gyro during the club's existence.

ACTIVE MEMBERS

There are at present 55 active members; nine associate and two honorary members. He stated Gyros have contributed toward park sidewalks, a shelter, X-ray machine and equipment for the hospital, Scout Hall improvements; arena funds. These are but a few of the achievements, while the present perennial objective is Boyce Gyro Park, used so extensively during the summer months.

In the cause of community service, many Kelowna Gyros have been elected as hospital directors and presidents, Board of Trade directors and presidents; aldermen and mayors. Three members of the club past and present, have been mayors of the city. The Kelowna Gyro Club has had one M.L.A., who is now premier of the province, and many Gyros have served on Red Cross, war finance, aquatic and arena committees.

NEW GYRO CLUBS

In the Gyro field, the local club has produced the first lieutenant-governor of Gyro District No. 4; two governors and two secretaries; treasurers of District No. 4 and one International president.

External extension of Gyro has resulted in formation of clubs in Penikese, Kamloops, Rossland, Vernon and London, Eng. Mr. Rutherford said Kelowna Gyros were hosts to a District 4 convention in 1952 and has been represented over the years at the annual International and District 4 conventions.

Six charter Gyro members attend dinner

Six charter members of the Kelowna Gyro Club were present for the service club's thirtieth anniversary dinner held in the Royal Anne Hotel Tuesday evening. The Gyro Club was the first service club to be formed in Kelowna. Charter members present included Dr. H. Bruce MacEwen, first president; Jack Galbraith, T. F. McWilliams, R. G. Rutherford, Dick Stewart, Sr., and Don Whitman.

Eleven members of the newly-formed Vernon Gyro Club were present and their president, Wilf Hicks extended congratulations to the local Gyros for their outstanding community service.

After reviewing the Gyro's 30-year history (reported elsewhere in today's Courier), R. G. Rutherford introduced Dr. MacEwen.

Dr. MacEwen expressed pleasure at being present for the celebration, and recalled he made an effort to attend the 25th birthday party but was prevented from doing so by railway slides.

FORMED IN 1923
The first Gyro president recalled that it was in 1923 that Ted Buse gathered a small group of young businessmen together for the purpose of forming a Gyro club. First meeting was held in Dr. MacEwen's office.

The local Gyros eventually received a charter in February, 1924, and Dr. MacEwen, in a whimsical manner, recalled the series of circumstances leading up to the formation of the service club. He said credit for the spade work should go to T. F. McWilliams, who took over the duties of president later in the year when Dr. MacEwen's professional duties called him away from Kelowna.

During the course of his address, Dr. MacEwen presented to the Kelowna Gyro Club, on behalf of himself and past International president R. G. Rutherford, a beautiful hand-carved lectern, suitably inscribed.

No date set for blood donor clinic

No date has been set for the postponed Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic, which was to have been held in Kelowna March 3 and 4. It was stated this morning.

Upon the advice of Dr. D. A. Clarke, director of South Okanagan Health Unit, the blood donor clinic was cancelled due to a mild outbreak of infectious jaundice.

Clinic was cancelled for the protection of donors and the general public. Mrs. J. H. Horn, chairman of the blood donor committee, stated.

It is likely that arrangements will be completed to have him speak April 28, at the Okanagan-Mainline District Associated Boards of Trade meeting here.

Attractive regatta folder now ready for distribution

The British Empire and Commonwealth Games invitation folder, now ready for distribution by the 1954 Regatta committee, was highly commended at Tuesday's Kelowna Board of Trade executive meeting.

The attractive, three-color pictorial presentation is being sent to athletes representing the various nations.

The individual invitations stress the magnitude of the 48th annual Kelowna International Regatta and suggest that Canada's Greatest Water Show is a natural follow-up to the BEG.

It is expected that many visiting athletes will attend the Regatta.

Named on executive

R. P. MacLean, publisher of The Kelowna Courier, who was elected to the executive of the Class A newspapers at the annual meeting held this week in Montreal. William H. Cranston, publisher of the Midland, Ont. Free Press-Herald, was chosen president.

WE NEARLY "LOST" STEVENSON BECAUSE OF A MISPLACED "S"

Kelowna Packers almost "lost" Doug Stevenson—top netminder in the OSHL—because of a misplaced letter today. A story wired from Kelowna to a Canada-wide news agency at Vancouver Tuesday stated: "Doug Stevenson of Kelowna Packers today reigns as the Okanagan Senior Hockey League's top netminder."

At Vancouver, someone added an "s" to reigns and it came out "resigns."

Newspapers and radio stations across Canada picked up the story but a correction was made early today.

For the record: Stevenson is still with us.

But one sports editor wired this through frantically: "Rush, need dope on Stevenson quitting."

That's how the letter "s" caused the trouble.

Mayor warns rising school costs may force council to "throw up its hands"

"If school costs keep going up all council can do is throw up its hands and let the government take over running of the city." That was the ultimatum delivered by Mayor J. J. Ladd at this week's council meeting when he warned that the city had reached the "end of the road" insofar as increased taxation is concerned.

Discussion arose when council once again reviewed the 1954 school estimates of $571,945, an increase of almost $6,000 over last year.

Aldermen deferred action on the school board budget for one week, and were interested to know what action would be taken at the annual meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association, held in Kamloops yesterday.

This morning Mayor Ladd stated that the newly-appointed executive secretary of the O.V.M.A., T. B. Adams, formerly of Vernon, gave an "off the record" talk to delegates. He intimated that Kelowna council would approve the school budget at next Monday's meeting.

MONEY BYLAW

In warning aldermen at this week's council meeting that Kelowna can bear no further increases in taxation, Mr. Ladd said he had heard that the school board would request a $250,000 money bylaw for additional school buildings if the 1954 estimates are passed.

He admitted that Kelowna's increase in education costs is not out of line "compared with other cities." The school budget is only $6,000 higher despite a $49,000 boost in teachers' salaries.

Alderman Dick Parkinson expressed the view that the government is aware of the situation and stated reports indicate that it is prepared to give some relief insofar as school costs are concerned. He added that if a bylaw is submitted for additional school construction, the carrying charges next year would force an increase in the mill rate.

Ald. Maurice Meikle said that while the school board had done a good job in keeping expenses down, curtailment of capital expenditures (in the budget) was more than eaten up by the increase in teachers' salaries.

Heads Rotary

Reg. H. Brown, well-known local pharmacist, who was elected president of the Kelowna Rotary Club this week.

A resident of Kelowna since 1917, he was associated with G. A. McKay and the late P. B. Willis in the pharmacy business until he purchased his own drug store in 1933. He recently sold his interests to Harold Long.

Mr. Brown has been a member of the local Rotary club for six years, and attended the Rotary International convention in New York in 1949. He is also a member of the B.C. Beekeepers' Association, and the National Chinichilla Association.

KNOW YOUR HOSPITAL

Successful operation of modern hospital depends on teamwork within walls, declares administrator

"The successful operation of a modern hospital, regardless of its size or facilities, depends upon the teamwork found within its walls," is the belief of C. F. Lavery, local hospital administrator.

According to Mr. Lavery, a hospital, like any other well run business, relies upon the efforts of every single member of the staff to make possible the highest standard of patient care.

"In some respects," he said, "it is unfortunate that the public does not know more about the army of workers who operate quietly and unsung behind the scenes, and without whose efforts the hospital could not function."

The administrator suggested that most people are used to associating doctors and nurses with a hospital because they are always in evidence, but forget the other very essential members of the staff who make up the team.

"For instance," he said, "we rely tremendously upon the hospital board members, who give voluntarily of their time and experience toward making our hospital operation a success, the dietitians and their kitchen staff, the nurses aides, the housekeeper, who must keep the hospital scrupulously clean, the laboratory and X-ray technicians, the medical records department, office staffs, the engineers, who provide heat and maintenance, and the seamstress, who makes sure that there is a plentiful supply of sheets

"It's the teamwork that counts," says hospital administrator C. F. Lavery. Grouped around him are members of the supervisory staff. Left to right they are J. P. Stappler, chief engineer; Mrs. R. Neilson, housekeeper; Miss D. A. Johnson, chief lab technician; A. Schmidt, laundry supervisor; Mrs. A. Breckenridge, assistant director of nursing; Miss E. J. Stocker, director of nursing; C. F. Lavery, administrator; Miss P. Hardwick, medical records librarian; Dr. J. S. Hynes, radiologist; Mrs. R. Dillabaugh, chief dietitian; Miss A. R. Greig, nurse in charge of dispensary.

'Mayors' Day' Four men are held proposed for regatta for theft of 800 dynamite caps

Broke into S. M. Simpson powder magazine on Knox Mountain

Four men are in police custody at Vancouver as the result of the break-in and theft of nearly 800 dynamite caps from the S. M. Simpson Ltd. powder magazine at Knox Mountain here last Friday.

The men were arrested Tuesday at the coast. RCMP here say no specific charges have yet been laid against the quartet but they are expected. The four men may be brought here for trial or otherwise remain to face charges at Vancouver.

Police said today most of the stolen detonator caps have been recovered.

Three hundred more were discovered in the Knox Mountain area yesterday, but RCMP added the warning that a few are still missing and asked residents to report discovery of any immediately.

The caps are described as 1½ inches long, silver in color, crimped at one end and open at the other.

RCMP discovered the theft Friday.

They said 1,000 caps were stolen from the magazine on Knox Mountain but 200 had been recovered, 100 of them intact while the rest were scattered in an area near the dynamite storehouse.

Police roped off the area and posted warning signs.

The powder and blasting cap magazines are situated about 50 yards apart on the mountain.

Police said the caps were "highly dangerous" and had warned Kelowna residents—particularly parents of young children—to be on the lookout for them.

RCMP added the warning that the blasting caps could be set off if they were mishandled, dropped or stepped on and severe injuries would result.

Noted accordionist entertains local Kiwanis Club

Accordionist Tony Stolz, of Penticton, entertained the Kiwanis Club of Kelowna at their noon luncheon meeting last Friday with several musical numbers.

Tony is a nephew of Roy Stolz of this city and has toured Canada from coast to coast. He is the composer of such popular numbers as "Calgary Waltz" and "Blue River Waltz" and has several phonograph records to his credit.

Arena commission members approved by city council

City Council formally approved the appointment of three representatives on the Kelowna Arena Commission.

E. O. Boake and F. G. Barlee were reappointed as city members for two-year terms, while D. H. Campbell, of Rutland, was named rural representative for a one-year term. Mr. Campbell succeeds Bob Whillis, who wished to resign.

Tribute was paid to Mr. Whillis who was one of the original members of the arena commission, and who was also a member of the war memorial committee set up to raise money for the construction of the Memorial Arena.

Five per cent wage boost given telephone workers

A five percent boost in wages for telephone company employees has resulted from successful negotiations between the Federation of B.C. Telephone Workers and the Okanagan Telephone Company recently.

New agreements were signed, without resort to conciliation or arbitration boards, although interior conciliation officer George A. Carmichael was called in when talks reached a deadlock.

Involved in the first dispute were telephone operators at Salmon Arm, Enderby, Armstrong, Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton, Revelstoke and Sumnerland.

Agreement was reached between the operators and the company on the basis of a five percent increase effective January 1, 1954, and a further increase of five percent effective January 1, 1955. Termination date of the collective agreement will be extended to December 31, 1955.

Cable splicers, central office maintenance men, combination men, district repairmen, electricians and several other categories of technicians, also gained a five percent pay boost retroactive to January 1, with a similar increase on January 1, 1955.

Clerical employees and draughtsmen in the same territory were unable to agree upon a wage schedule covering all the classifications in their original agreement. Eventually, Mr. Carmichael reported, such a schedule was agreed upon and will be retroactive to November 1, 1953. A two-year agreement will be signed to include the new wage schedule from January 1, 1954.

The clerical employees and draughtsmen will also benefit by a five percent increase to be effective from January 1, 1955 to December 31, 1955.

City council orders survey of Mill Creek

City Council this week took steps to avert potential flood conditions when aldermen agreed that the public works department should clear Mill Creek of obstructions.

Ald. Jack Treadgold said there is a danger of "flash floods" due to heavy snow in the water basin, and recommended that a survey be made immediately.

He said that Mill Creek is at present running fairly high, but suggested that the survey be made when temperatures drop and the water level subsides.

Packers beat Canadians 5-3; set season OSHL win record

By RON BAIRD

Kelowna Packers set a season win record in the OSHL here Tuesday night with a 5-3 victory over Vernon Canadians and the club landed itself solidly in second place with an eight-point lead over third-place Canadians.

Nine victories in a row—three each against Penticton and Kamloops, two against Vernon and one against Trail—gave Packers the win record, previously held by Penticton with eight games in a row this season.

Amundrud broke the 3-3 tie in the third frame, back-handing a shot into the right-hand corner of the Vernon net, giving Packers a one-goal margin which Durban registered his second marker of the night—boosted to two in the dying minutes of play when he scooped up a pass from Kirk and fired into an open net after Canadians had pulled Soflak at 18:53.

Stecyk opened the scoring in the first period on a pass from Agar, hitting the right side of the Packers net from just past the blue-line. Lucchini put Canadians two goals up at 11:22 in the middle period, before Packers replied about four minutes later when Middleton notched Kelowna's first goal on a scramble. Smith, tied the game in the second period when he tipped the puck past Soflak 62 seconds later.

Miller scored Vernon's last goal at 14:15 in the third period unassisted after Durban had registered at 7:15 with a shoulder-high shot on a pass from Kirk.

Referee George Cullen thumbed 13 players into the penalty box for minors, and tossed Hoskins out of the game for a match misconduct in the final period when he judged that Hoskins had clipped him with his stick after being handed a minor for cross-checking.

ODDS AND ENDS—The most obviously irritating thing about Tuesday night's game was that match misconduct handed FRANK HOSKINS in the third period. Referee GEORGE CULLEN called it after handing Hoskins a minor for cross-checking because he believed that Hoskins had deliberately struck him with his stick as he skated past. It looked like an accident—and knowing Hoskins' record it obviously was—but Cullen thought otherwise. Just a case of an honest mistake on both sides, we think.

SIGHTS ON GOAL—Kelowna, 29; Vernon, 31. Congrats to PACKERS for setting that win record. Here's a candidate for the B.C.

Research produces new throat lozenge!

A Four Plus Potency and Four Plus Effectiveness with Safety

With advent of Penicillin a new field in research was opened up with the discovery of antibiotics (Drugs which destroy bacteria). Penicillin long claimed as the wonder drug of the world is still used extensively but now mostly by injection or taken by mouth. The reason for this is that after extensive use by the public in the form of lozenges and other topical applications Penicillin was found to have detrimental effects attached to it, with the result that the sale of Penicillin products is now more restricted than in the past.

Research in its never ending fight has in this new lozenge overcome toxic reactions, sensitization or many of the deterrent factors associated with penicillin when used in this way. This new lozenge is composed of not one but four antibiotics.

This combination of antibiotics acts locally against a wide variety of bacteria, that habitually lurk in the throat and mouth. Since the action of each drug in this lozenge is supplemented by at least one other the preparation is multipotent in bactericidal effectiveness.

According to research evidence this lozenge is most effective against throat and mouth infections because:

1. It can be given without risk of lessening the effectiveness of any future treatment of those antibiotics most commonly used for systemic infections. (By systemic we mean drugs given by injection or taken by mouth internally.)

2. It is essentially safe because development of resistant forms are absent or extremely rare.

3. It combats a wide variety of mouth and throat micro-organisms.

4. It is especially soothing to painfully inflamed throats.

Here then we have the latest in research discoveries, but we suggest that in the use of any lozenge that you consult your Physician if results are not apparent within a short time, rather than continue with prolonged treatment.

In conclusion we would like to point out that medical research is a never ending struggle in the service of mankind and we hope to be able to bring these new products to your attention from time to time.

Also we would ask you to remember that these products will be available to you at Physicians Prescription Pharmacy on Pender St. YOUR PRESCRIPTION SPECIALISTS.

The Victoria merry-go-round

By JAMES K. NESBITT

VICTORIA—Members of the combined opposition in the Legislature watch these days, hopefully and eagerly, for some signs of splits in the ranks of Social Credit.

All the oppositionists took great political comfort when it was learned Hugh Shantz, deputy speaker the last two sessions, had been replaced by A. S. Matthew, MLA for Vancouver Centre.

Ah, said the oppositionists to themselves—here it is; here's the break-up—or, at least the start of it; the Premier is annoyed with Mr. Shantz because he suggested a plebiscite on hospital insurance.

The Premier, however, quite blandly explained there was no significance at all to the matter, that he thinks it a good idea that all his members should gain some experience as deputy speaker.

Well, that may be what the Premier says, but Mr. Shantz was fired. There's no other way of looking at it. He was fired!

The deputy speaker gets an extra $500 a session, so Mr. Shantz' pocket as well as his pride has been hurt.

Mr. Shantz won't admit the hurt, but he does say he's mightily embarrassed, but, chins up: "It is apparent the Premier does not want me—but I'm still a Social Credit."

But what kind of a Social Credit—Bennett S.C'er. Ah, there's the rub—or perhaps the nub of the whole intriguing situation.

POLITICAL RUMBLING Certainly the firing of Mr. Shantz has started a lot of political rumbling.

E. A. Lecours, past president of North Okanagan Social Credit Association (Mr. Shantz home town group) came out with a politically unwise statement: "The Premier has at last taken action against a man who has been bucking him secretly at every turn."

And the present president, L. R. Thomas, said he's "deeply shocked" at the Premier's action.

The firing of Mr. Shantz also brought former Liberal Speaker Harry Perry out of his retirement. Huffing and puffing in the old Perry style, this gentleman announced it's most unusual to remove the deputy speaker.

Said Mr. Perry: "If I was deputy speaker and was thrown out, I'd consider it a reflection upon my ability, or punishment from the party as a disciplinary measure."

Well, there it is; there may be something to all this, and, again, there may not be, but the opposition is going to make the most of it—and who can blame them?

The opposition, too, took some political comfort from the speech of Rev. C. W. Parker, Social Credit MLA for Peace River. There have been rumors that Mr. Parker would resign his seat to cause a by-election in which Elmer Gundersen, the deposed Minister of Finance, might try once more for a seat in the Legislature.

STEMS RUMOR Mr. Parker made mention of these rumors. He said he'd like it quite definitely understood that he's NOT going to resign—that's all there is to it. Mr. Speaker, he's NOT going to resign.

And then he added: "Even if there are many people who think it would be a good idea."

There were snickers from opposition benches at this. Why Mr. Parker's vehemence? Was Mr. Parker looking at the Premier as he said this? Does Mr. Parker suspect the Premier might try to oust him in a desperate effort to seat Mr. Gundersen. Well, he's not going to—not on your life—Mr. Parker is the member for Peace River and he's going to stay there.

Until the people throw him out, which, of course, in Mr. Parker's mind will never happen.

And then, sensing he had given political comfort to the enemy, Mr. Parker proceeded to discomfit the enemy. He made mention of the Legislature's magnificent new mace. He said it was about time B.C. had a new mace. The old mace, he said, was made for a side show in Chicago years ago.

Well, said Mr. Parker from far-away Peace River, there aren't any legislative side shows in B.C. any more. Those days are gone, Mr. Speaker. He put it this way: "With the coming of the new mace is the crowning of the glorious fact that this Legislature was taken out of the side show business after the general election of 1952."

That date, you'll recall, was when Social Credit first zoomed into the government benches in B.C. However, it's all a matter of political opinion; there are those who think it has been one continual side show ever since Social Credit took over.

Wilson Landing resident hears from sister WILSON LANDING—Residents are hearing from travellers far afield these days. Among recent communications was a post card for Mark Newton, of the Anglican Camp, from his sister, Miss Betty Newton, which was mailed at Acapulco, not far from Mexico City, which she reached by plane from Vancouver in ten hours.

Miss Newton, who is a Fellow of the Royal College of Music, London, is now taking a six week's holiday and expects to spend part of that time in Los Angeles, before returning to Vancouver, where she teaches violin and is first violinist in the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra.

Recently received was a beautiful picture of R.M.S. Lock Avon, on a calm and happy sea, from Charles Burbridge, who is en route to England after 40 years spent in Canada. Mr. Burbridge is a school teacher, and about 35 years ago spent a summer vacation at "Cotvale," among the fruit trees in G. C. Brown's orchards. On returning to the coast, he shipped his trunk to Vancouver, and, with a stick in his hand, a "cow's breakfast" on his

FLUORIDATION The Editor, The Kelowna Courier. Dear Sir—I would like to give the people of Kelowna my impressions on fluorine in their water supply.

In 1942 I was in the army charting teeth for new recruits. I examined the oral cavity and teeth, all fillings, cavities, restorations, missing teeth and pathological conditions. One day we had about 35 men from the age of 20 to 30. These men had perfect sets of teeth, no cavities, no fillings, no loss of teeth except in a few cases a third molar lost because of lack of room. Upon enquiry I found these men came from northern Saskatchewan where the water and soil and vegetation are rich in fluorine.

The test started in Brantford some years later and after seven years of fluoridation the finding proved that 86% were without caries. I feel that had the test started only on infants the result would have been much greater. Let's be the first in B.C., Kelowna. We can't go wrong. Thank you.

Yours truly, H. WOOD, D.D.S.

The Editor, The Kelowna Courier. Dear Sir—As a long-time resident of this district, and one who has taken much interest in the welfare of this beautiful part of the Okanagan, I would like to make the following appeal in the hopes that it may lead to action.

In the first place: While we have a beautiful little city, with a terrific potential for the future, we, as citizens must awake to the fact that we are sadly lacking in basic industries.

At the present time we are dependent, mainly, on the orchards and the one large sawmill in this area.

Why do all our young people have to leave this part of the Okanagan to seek a livelihood?

It is up to us, as citizens, to help promote the security and happiness of our younger generation. In order to accomplish this we need more industries, more jobs and a greater faith in the future.

Why shouldn't we try to get new industries, new plants, new progress. For far too long we have been sitting back, doing very little to promote the future.

I would suggest, that we try to have new factories, new industries, a plant for making pork and beans, canned soups, macaroni and a distillery. Many of our orchard products are going to waste—and this is a waste that could be utilized by using these products of our soil and our trees.

And why not a wool factory. Sheep graze over our higher land and pastures and yet we are not utilizing the resources that sheep could provide us. A wool factory. Why not? Or a tobacco factory. Or a sugar beet industry.

It would be easy to keep on suggesting new industries, new enterprises. We have a wonderful valley here and wonderful people but we must start looking towards the future or all of our younger people will be going away, to other parts of the country, where they can find employment.

Now is the time that we should wake up to the fact that we have all the resources, all the products, by-products that are necessary to create new employment, new industries. Who knows but what we may have mineral resources that are lying dormant waiting for the adventurous prospector to uncover the riches that may lie beneath our peaks, in our valleys. We have the climate, this is truly the "California of Canada." We have a wonderful lake at our front door, majestic scenery around us.

We have a city which is known far and wide for its outstanding sports achievements. We have parks, beautiful streets, beautiful homes, fine people . . . in other words we have everything here, right within our reach. IF WE WILL ONLY DO SOMETHING TO DEVELOP our latent possibilities.

This, Mr. Editor, is my sincere plea—let's get things going. We have the money, we have the vision, we have the people. All we need is a little constructive thinking and a great deal of enthusiasm to make this the most perfect and progressive little city in this vast hinterland of ours.

Thanking you for the space you have allowed me to propose these projects, I remain, Yours very truly, A. CACHIONI.

Council refuses request to hold liquor plebiscite

City Council this week turned down a request from the Kelowna branch of the Alcoholic Research and Education Council that a plebiscite be submitted to local residents before any change is made in the act governing the distribution of liquor.

A five-man delegation consisting of George Thornber, Rev. E. Martin, Rev. A. Gordon, Mrs. E. S. Eby and Roy Schultz appeared before council and submitted a brief.

Speaking on behalf of council, Mayor J. J. Ladd recalled that in the 1952 provincial election, residents of this city voted in favor of a change in present liquor regulations. "We have studied the matter individually and collectively, and we feel that democracy has spoken," Mayor Ladd declared, adding that the Alcoholic Research

Missionary from China guest speaker here

Dr. Adlai Este, a missionary in China for fourteen years, was guest speaker at Rutland Seventh-day Adventist church last Saturday. Having also travelled in South America, he told the children about the 211 schools around Lake Titicaca in the Andes or roof of the world.

Dr. Este said that each person has a shadow or influence. Each church member has more to do than to listen to preaching. "Discouragement," he said, "is the anaesthetic that the devil gives before taking out your heart. Obstacles are the things you see when you take your eyes off the goal."

"38th Parallel" will be shown here Sunday

A showing of the sound-color motion picture on Korea will take place in a special rally on Feb. 28 at the First Baptist Church on Ellis Street, beginning at 7:15 p.m.

The filming of "38th Parallel" was made in Korea by Dr. Bob Pierce, President of World Vision, Inc. During the time he spent in Korea, Pierce spoke at more than 800 public meetings which were held in churches, high schools, colleges and open air assemblies. The crowds ranged up to 50,000 persons in Taegu, Korea's second largest city. In Seoul the meetings averaged 15,000 for nine nights. This series of meetings conducted by Dr. Pierce was sponsored by Korean churches and has been acclaimed the largest in Korean history.

The film deals with the challenging story of God's Deadline in Korea. It reveals the mind and heart of the south Koreans before Communist hordes swept down upon them. Their hunger for God... their simplicity of life... the tragedies which they had faced under Japanese occupation in World War II. The Korean way of life is vividly shown.

The film is 50 minutes in length. The service is open to the public and there is no admission charge.

Short days before the South Korean countryside flamed with war, God visited that land during one of the most thrilling spiritual harvests ever recorded in the history of modern missions. "38th PARALLEL" is a powerful film document of that event, with remarkable sequences on the Korean people, the heart-break of Korea's orphans and lepers, as well as combat pictures of UN troops in action. ## Westbank home scene of quiet wedding as Irene Mary Busch and Robert Van exchange vows at 4 o'clock ceremony

WESTBANK—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Busch, Canyon Road, Westbank, was the scene of a pretty wedding earlier this month when their only daughter, Irene Mary, became the bride of Robert Van of Kaleden, the Rev. G. G. Harris, of Peachland, officiating at the four o'clock ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding an afternoon frock of heavy corded silk in silver beige, which featured the new draped sweetheart neckline and a full skirt. With it she wore white accessories, a necklace and earrings of delicate pink, matched cameos, and a corsage of deep pink rosebuds.

The bride's party stood beneath an arch decorated with pink and white streamers and white bells. The floral note was spring blooms of daffodils and tulips. Bridesmaid Miss Doreen Cornish, the bride's cousin, chose a dress similar in style to that of the bride, but in a gold beige shade, with which she wore deep mauve accessories, and her corsage was of white carnations. The gift of the bride was a pair of emerald earrings.

Supporting the groom was Mr. O. G. Rotschy, of Penticton. The gift of the groom was a Ronson lighter.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Busch wore an afternoon dress of blue sheer, and a corsage of pink carnations.

Opera is based on the legend of Oogopogo

"The Lake," an opera based on the legend of Naitika (Oogopogo), in the pioneer days of Susan Allison, will be heard on CBC Wednesday night, March 3. Libretto was written by the poet, Dorothy Livesey, and elaborated into a four-part chamber opera by the Vancouver composer, Barbara Pentland.

Considerable research into early Okanagan history and the life-story of Mrs. Allison (whose home was at "Sunnyside" (Westbank) from 1873 to 1881) was made by Dorothy Livesey before the work was written, and it is hoped that it will be found historically sound as well as good opera. The author made a special trip to Westbank two years ago to view Mrs. Allison's former home, the ruins of which are still standing on the bench overlooking the lake. Natalie Minuzie will sing the leading role as Susan Allison.

This is Barbara Pentland's first venture into opera and also it is the first Canadian opera based on British Columbia history and setting.

More About 1 Successful operation

VITAL LINK

All these people, Mr. Lavery asserted, link arms with the medical and nursing staffs, administration (which includes the director of nurses and her supervisors) to give the patient the best possible hospital care.

"It's the teamwork," he said, "that counts... and in this, our community hospital is blessed."

DRESSING ROOM

The hospital central dressing room, the nerve centre for medical and surgical supplies, is a relatively new thing in a hospital, according to Miss E. Stocker, director of nurses. "Kelowna is indeed fortunate to have one."

Everything from a pin to a complete set of sterilized surgical instruments is available every minute of the day through the services of this new department.

According to the doctors, the system of centralized supplies is a great improvement over the previous method. "When each floor and ward was responsible for its own supplies," one of them said, "a lot of valuable time was wasted—especially for the nurses."

Under the new arrangement, a phone call to the central dressing room supervisor, Miss E. Clarke, will ensure the correct instruments or supplies being in the hands of the caller within a few minutes.

"In January, this year," said Mrs. Clarke, "we sent out 142 trays, which included 6,884 syringes and 8,794 hypodermic needles." In hospital parlance, a tray is the means of transporting supplies each one varying according to the requirements of the wards or medical staff. After use, it is returned to the central dressing room where everything on it is sterilized before being put back into service. Mrs. Clarke's department also looks after the sterilization of operating room equipment.

War veteran, T. G. Harding, dies at home

Veteran of World War One, Thomas George Harding died at his home at Five Bridges today at the age of 75.

Born in London, England, Mr. Harding came to Canada as a youth and farmed in Saskatchewan before returning east to Brantford, Ont., where he resided with his parents. He came west again after service in World War One.

Mr. Harding saw service with the 38th auxiliary forces in 1898, went overseas with the 89th Battalion as a medical sergeant and was stationed at Bramshott Camp in England in 1915. He went to France a year later with the 10th Railroad troops, was invalided home in 1918, then served at the headquarters of the 2nd C.M.R.'s in Vernon until 1927.

Mr. Harding was holder of the Long Service Medal, the 1914-1918 Medal and the Victory Medal. He is survived by his wife, Una, in Kelowna; two brothers, Percy, in Kelowna, and Ernest, of England; and a sister, Mrs. D. F. McGuire, of Oregon. Four nephews, Terry, Douglas and Kenneth, of Kelowna, and Lynn, Vancouver, and two nieces, Mrs. J. Gregory, Kamloops, and Mrs. L. Sprackland, Vancouver. Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. from Day's chapel, conducted by Rev. R. S. Letch. Interment will be at Kelowna cemetery.

E. Kelowna PTA hears address on founders' day

EAST KELOWNA—The monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association was held in the Community Hall, with the president, Mrs. D. Evans, in the chair.

To commemorate founders' day, charter members were invited. A letter was read from Mrs. H. Bailey, the local representative for the Kelowna and District Society for the Mentally Handicapped.

A discussion took place on the forthcoming convention of the provincial federation of the Parent-Teachers Association, which will be held in South Brantford at Easter. After the business, Mel Barwick gave a very interesting talk on the local P.T.A. of which he was the first honorary president.

Being founders' day, he spoke of the progress the P.T.A. had made in the district. Among other things they had acquired extra land to the school grounds. The annual fall fair, he said, was a project of the P.T.A. which was non-political, non-commercial, non-sectarian and non-racial.

Fire chief gives "order" to trustees

VERNON—Connection of Vernon school directly into the city's fire alarm system has been ordered by fire chief Fred Little, school board chairman J. R. Kidston, told the City Council last week, and the cost of the work has been included in the 1954 education estimates. Mayor A. C. Wilde questioned the need for the new arrangement, insisting that telephonic communication with the fire hall had been satisfactory for the past 25 years. "Yes," said Mr. Kidston, "but requirements have changed considerably in the last 25 years." The fire chief had not "requested" the change but had "required" it to be made. The trustees regarded it as an "order" from the fire chief. "I just wanted to know," said the mayor, "because after all the fire chief comes under the control of the City Council. It doesn't seem necessary to me."

East Kelowna Guide committee holds meeting

District fruit head honored at banquet

As a mark of affection and esteem felt for William Read, retiring district fruit inspector, a dinner and social evening was held at the Royal Anne Hotel recently. Some sixty members of the staff throughout the province, from Kamloops to Osoyoos and from the coast to the Kootenays gathered to do honor to Mr. and Mrs. Read.

J. W. Lee, the present district inspector, made the principal speech, reminding the gathering of Mr. Read's long service with the federal department of agriculture and his many efforts to better the conditions under which the inspection staff worked. He expressed the regret of all present at Mr. Read's severance and proposed a toast to his good health and many happy years of retirement.

W. J. Hayward, the dean of the staff, recalled the early days when an inspection was first started and the difficulties under which inspectors worked at that time. On behalf of the staff he made a presentation of a set of silverware to Mr. and Mrs. Read. Mrs. Read was presented with a bouquet of roses and carnations by Mrs. J. Orwell of the Kelowna office staff. Mr. Platt, supervision director at Vancouver, also paid tribute to Mr. Read and told the gathering how much the coast inspectors had appreciated working under him through all the years that he had held the position of district inspector.

Mr. Read spoke with appreciation of the loyal service given to him by the members of the staff throughout the province and expressed the hope that Mr. Lee, the new district inspector, might have the same cooperation and loyalty which he had always received.

P-TA's join for meeting

Following the talk and film, a discussion was held and refreshments served.

Veteran mail carrier, John Wyatt receives coronation medal

coronation medal

The Coronation Medal that rural postman John E. Wyatt received a short time ago came as a fitting tribute to a career that started 38 years ago and is still going strong. Starting with a mail contract between Kelowna and Vernon in 1916, London-born, 69-year-old Wyatt saw his route build up from an original 80 rural letter boxes until he was carrying mail for 500 before part of his run was cut off when local mail service was established at Winfield.

One of two news links with the outside world—the other was the daily steamer service by the Aberdeen from Okanagan Landing to Penticton—the mail carried by postman Wyatt provided residents here with the latest gossip and events in a growing British Columbia.

TELEGRAPH NEWS

Travelling by stage, Mr. Wyatt picked up telegraph news that came in over the wires to a Vernon newspaper and these reports were displayed at the old office site, now occupied by Ribelin's photo studio.

Mr. Wyatt switched to a model T—one of the first in the area—and his deliveries included all points between here and Vernon.

The roads were nothing more than wagon tracks in those days and it was a good week when he didn't average more than two punctures during his rounds.

In nearly 600,000 miles of driving, Mr. Wyatt has never had an accident.

By 1931, his route was changed and he delivered only as far as the south end of Wood's Lake.

When he first started delivering mail, the postal staff was composed of only four, today there are 31.

including rural delivery and parcel post.

Born in London, England, Mr. Wyatt was brought to Canada at the age of two, lived in Manitoba for 13 years, then moved to Vernon in 1900. He came to live in Kelowna in 1931.

Today, his route takes in the Glenora and Ellison districts; he delivers mail to about 250 boxes; starts at 9:45 and ends at 1:30 p.m.; covers about 30 miles and says he has "no plans to retire."

In 38 years of delivering the mail, he has only missed one day—that was in 1926 when the snow was so deep that not even horses could buck the weather.

His Coronation Medal was a just reward for faithful service.

Vernon cancels bike licencing

VERNON—By formal motion, the City Council on Monday evening cancelled its bicycle licencing system, effective January 1 of this year.

Aldermen passed the motion unanimously and there was no discussion. Earlier this year, the Council endorsed dropping the licences on the grounds that administration cost more than the revenue produced and that the system was ineffective in recovering stolen machines.

Request for angle parking refused

Request from the Christian Science Society for the city to institute angle parking on Bertram Street, immediately north of Bernard Avenue, was turned down by council last week.

The Christian Scientists complained there is not sufficient room for parking in the area since the Grace Baptist Church was constructed on the adjacent property. Request was turned down upon the recommendation of the traffic control advisory council, as it was pointed out that Bertram Street is too narrow for angle parking and it was thought that other churches would make similar requests.

Council was informed that when a building permit was issued to Grace Baptist Church, it was on the understanding that part of the property would be used for parking. When the structure is completed and the area landscaped, aldermen agreed that this will alleviate the parking situation.

MORE HELP PROMISED

Many business firms, individuals and organizations have helped newly-formed school for retarded children

(Editor's note: This is another in a series of articles dealing with the Kelowna and District Society for the Mentally Handicapped, which was recently formed in the city.)

By DOROTHY GELLATLY

Generous assistance in the form of money and materials from many points in the Okanagan has been forthcoming in the establishment of the Kelowna and District Society for the Mentally Handicapped.

Indeed, the society could not have progressed as it has, had not the communities from Oryama south to Summerland given so generously. Local service clubs and organizations, business firms and individuals have made substantial contributions, and still more help has been promised.

Dr. D. A. Clarke, of the South Okanagan Health Unit stands behind those in charge of the affairs of the society, while other local medical men act in an advisory capacity.

Among those who have collected and given money to the Society are Westbank, Peachland, the U-G-I-Go Club, of Okanagan Mission, the East Kelowna P-T-A, the Women's Institutes of West Summerland, Kalamalka and Okanagan Centre, the Rotary Club, while further offers of assistance are forthcoming from Peachland and Westbank. Other contributors have requested that their names be withheld.

Couple exchange vows at quiet ceremony here

Rev. R. S. Leitch officiated at a quiet ceremony on Friday evening, February 19, in First United Church manse, when Marie Antoinette Clark became the bride of Alexander Ruddick, of Kelowna.

Wearing a dress of navy blue with pink accessories, and a corset, the bride carried a beautiful bound book in white leather. Her wedding ring, which is seventy-five years old, had been worn by the groom's mother.

Bridesmaid Miss Doreen Duggan, of Oryama, was the bride's only attendant. The rich shades of her ston nylon dress were complemented by black accessories and a corsage of white and pink carnations. The groom was supported by Mr. Joe Oliver, of Kelowna.

Following the ceremony a group of eighteen guests, intimate friends of the bride and groom, attended the reception held in the Royal Anne Hotel, where Mr. Eddie Witt proposed the toast to the bride. Mrs. Witt and Miss Duggan presided at the urns.

The bride's table, centred with the wedding cake, was decorated with daffodils and four tall tapers. For the brief honeymoon spent in Penticton, the bride donned a grey suit with which she wore pale blue accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruddick will make their home in Kelowna.

New Yorker here to hold meeting on concert music

MUSIC ASSOCIATIONS

There are 500-600 Civic Music Associations throughout the U.S., all organized under the Civic Concert Service, in which artists are under recognized concert management.

An open meeting is being held in the Royal Anne Hotel at 8.00 p.m. tonight for the organization of civic music in Kelowna, to which all interested are welcome. An organization of this kind would make available to Kelowna a concert series each winter season.

It doesn't pay, say trappers

The handful of wild mink pelts that Audrie Lamar of Sudbury is holding would cost a buyer $200, but it's not enough to make trapping a profitable enterprise. That was the main complaint of trappers at a convention in Sudbury, Ont., where 100 of them compared experiences. They all agree that trapping doesn't pay well enough to raise a family.

Guide notes

The Girl Guide and Brownie Thinking Day tea held last Saturday at the Junior High School was a most successful beginning for this week, which is observed everywhere by Girl Guides and Boy Scouts.

Mrs. T. Marsh, the new District Commissioner, welcomed the guests, also Mrs. P. G. James, association president, who appealed for help in guides' work and also to the mother's for more interest in the association.

Brownie and guide equipment and handicraft were on display, and during the afternoon the 1st Kelowna Brownie Pack and 2nd Kelowna Guide Company gave a demonstration of some of the highlights of their work. Mrs. C. Husband, Vernon, division, commissioner, spoke on the history of guiding and put on a most entertaining little skit.

TEA TABLE

The tea table, decorated with the guide colors of blue and yellow, was presided over by Mrs. Evans, East Kelowna; Mr. T. F. McWilliams, Mrs. O. St. P. Atkins and Mrs. A. F. G. Drake, of Okanagan Mission. Girl guides acted as servers.

The local Girl Guide Association convened the tea and many mothers and guests were present to enjoy the afternoon.

The week will conclude with a church parade on Sunday, February 28, to the Anglican and Roman Catholic churches. All guides and brownies are asked to fall in at the Anglican parish hall at 10.30 a.m.

Keeping up with the Joneses

I've just been reading a Toronto paper and, as always when I read a Toronto paper, I'm filled with wonderment. Every time I look at an eastern sports page I wonder how it is we in our little Okanagan cities are playing Allan Cup hockey. Don Quixote was laughed at because he tilted at windmills, but I do not think that he was any more absurd than the four little Okanagan cities trying to compete in Allan Cup hockey.

Just take a look at the cities that are playing Allan Cup hockey in Ontario—Kitchener, Owen Sound, Hamilton, Windsor, Stratford, Chatham, Niagara Falls, Sarnia was in it too, but couldn't stand the gaff. There isn't one of those which is not at least three times as large as any of our towns; not one but has three times the potential gate than any of us have; not one but has three times the financial resources—and the job resources. Yet we are trying to string along with them. We're just trying to keep up with the Joneses.

And look at the cities in Ontario which are playing "B" hockey! Such places as Peterborough and Belleville! I'm afraid to quote population figures because these places have grown in the past ten years, but I would wager they are at least three times our population and much more than that in potential gates and hockey job possibilities. Yet they are playing "B" hockey and we are trying to play the Allan Cup brand. It just doesn't make sense.

Wouldn't there be a howl if one of the valley towns were asked to raise in a charity campaign as much as any one of these Ontario cities? There'd be screams to high heaven, and rightly so. We haven't got the people nor the financial resources to compete. Yet our hockey moguls have put us in the same category as they are in that sport and the comparison is fair because charity campaigns and hockey both depend on the potential amount of money which can be drawn into the treasury.

Certainly, I like the brand of hockey we are getting. But how long can we stand it? The Vernon club had passed up a payroll before I left (so I am told on reliable authority) and its crowds are down; Kelowna is struggling along with its head just above water. Kamloops is said to be in trouble, too. If not in trouble, apparently not far from it.

It cost Penticton more than $75,000 to operate last year. This year, if they get into the playoffs, it will cost them more than that. How long can Penticton stand that kind of money for hockey? Even if it should be able to, what about the other three teams in the league? It would be nice to have a local league team win the Allan Cup; nicer to have Kelowna do it. But so what? I can't get all excited about it. What good is the Allan Cup after you have got it? I can't go along with these people who claim that winning the Allan Cup is wonderful advertising for the town. Is it? I doubt it.

The eastern papers give it a small play; certainly they did last year. And who is interested anyway? Those who read the sports pages? No, those who read the sports pages for the hockey news. The average person—man—reading the sports page looks for the news of the sport in which he is interested and no more.

Good advertising? Give me 75,000 smackers and if I can't get more and better advertising for Kelowna from it than an Allan Cup hockey team will get, well, I'll eat my shirt.

Hockey financing being what it is, one doesn't know how the teams are doing this year. But I'll be surprised if three of the four teams finish up the regular season in the black. The playoffs may pull a couple of them out of the red, but it will be a close margin.

I suppose we'll continue to try to keep up with the Joneses until at least two of the clubs come a bad financial cropper.

CP airlines new service starts Mar. 1

Canadian Pacific Airlines three-weekly Convair service between Penticton and Vancouver will commence Monday, March 1 at 8:00 a.m. when the first trip will leave Penticton, arriving at Vancouver 50 minutes later. The new flight will operate on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, with return flights from Vancouver at 4:00 p.m. on Tuesday, Friday and Sunday.

An excursion fare of $19.95 will be in effect, with a 17 day return limit. The new fare and service are a direct result of the public opinion survey recently conducted in the Okanagan. The present daily except Sunday service between Vancouver and Calgary, with stops at Penticton, Castlegar and Cranbrook will remain in operation.

A special limousine service from Kelowna to Penticton has been arranged to tie in with the new schedules. Cars will leave Kelowna at 6:00 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday to connect with the Convair flight to Vancouver, and will pick up incoming traffic arriving from Vancouver on flight 4 at 9:15 a.m. Departure time from Vancouver for this flight will be 8:00 a.m. as of March 1 instead of 7:00 a.m. as at present.

The Kelowna taxi service will also connect with CPA's eastbound flight to Calgary and way points, leaving Penticton at 8:30. The company is hopeful that the new schedules will prove of greater benefit to the public than those presently in effect. The combined limousine and air service from Kelowna will land the passenger in Vancouver just 2 hours and 50 minutes after he leaves his home, which should prove a boon to travellers from the northern part of the valley.

Under the tower at Ottawa

By O. L. JONES, M.P.

Some time ago, the merchants of British Columbia were up in arms against the unfair competition offered by certain stores through loss-leader practices. This practice has been studied by the directors of the combines investigation act. Mr. Garson informed the House that this study is now advanced and when the report reaches him he will then decide whether legislation is necessary or not to curb the loss-leader practice.

Figures were given last week indicating that from January 1 to November 30, 1953, imports from the United States of canned peaches and apricots came to $4,692,929 pounds while we imported from the United States canned fruits other than peaches and apricots to a total of $3,359,492. I mention these facts because I feel that, with proper publicity and the necessary advertising, a lot of this market could be captured for our own canning industry which has been experiencing difficulties in disposing of the very product that we are importing in such large quantities from the United States plus other quantities from Australia, South Africa, Italy and other countries which I have not mentioned.

The Minister of Veterans' Affairs has moved that a special committee consisting of 31 members be formed to deal specifically with the bill to amend the war service grants act and the bill respecting benefits for members of the Canadian forces and such other legislation relating to veterans' affairs as may be referred, from time to time, to the said committee. While the above motion was not specifically mention war veterans' allowances, recipients and war veterans' widows, it is generally agreed that, once the committee starts functioning, these matters will inevitably be introduced to the committee. In any case, we veteran members of the House are very pleased that the government has decided to set up this committee. It also meets with the approval of veterans throughout the Dominion, both organized and unorganized.

UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM
The question of unemployment was dealt with at length at the result of figures indicating that we have approximately 580,000 people unemployed throughout the Dominion. Added to this would be another large number who are commonly known as unemployable and for that reason are not registered as unemployed but, nevertheless, their numbers add substantially to the number who are unable to work.

Mr. Howard Green sought to have a select committee appointed immediately to examine and report upon the actual unemployment situation throughout Canada and to make recommendations to parliament. The Honourable Milton Gregg, the minister of labor, more or less confirmed a figure of 524,000 being unemployed on January 21 of this year which is an increase of 140,000 over the same period last year. But, he pointed out that a large number of these people are part-time or seasonal employees. However, he did admit that other factors enter the situation such as the substitution of oil for coal in domestic and industrial use, the mechanization of some of Canada's coal mines and also that the lumber industry, particularly in the east, is operating considerably below normal levels. Mr. Gregg claimed that very few skilled workers are without work today. Most of the unemployed are unskilled. He pointed out that, wherever workers are willing to enter other fields of employment, the department of labor, in co-operation with the provincial government, is prepared to help them acquire greater skills under the Canadian vocational training program.

BLAMES LABOR

Mr. Clancy Gillis said that the government had received plenty of warning that unemployment would be with us this year and yet they had not done a thing to protect the workers. He quoted several sources for this assumption admitting that the minister of labor had done his best as far as he was able but, under the economic beliefs of the party in power, no permanent solution can be found. Mr. Gillis contributed his observations to the debate by placing the blame on organized labor and their demands for higher pay. Other speakers reasoned that both labor and management were jointly to blame for past labor troubles.

The debate disclosed clearly that Canada has become very dependent on world markets as a whole for her prosperity. Evidence was produced to show that the same world market is gradually shrinking, owing to keen competition being offered by the lower standard of some of the competitive countries such as Japan, Italy and Germany. On the other hand, there are signs that we are approaching an understanding with our old and valuable market in the United Kingdom when, this week, it has been announced that they are purchasing $5 million worth of our canned salmon and talks are proceeding between the United Kingdom and Canada regarding further sales of Canadian commodities which, I hope, will include fruit.

The Commons paid a well-deserved tribute to the memory of Agnes Macphail who passed away last week. Miss Macphail had the distinction of being the first woman member of the Federal Parliament as well as in the Ontario Provincial Government. Tributes were paid by Mrs. Ellen Fairclough for the Conservatives, the Honourable W. E. Harris for the Liberals and Mr. M. J. Coldwell for the C.P.

Benvoulin

BENVOLIN—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mae and son Colin have left to make their home in California.

Mrs. Clare Overend and her two small sons are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Spall, enroute from Abbotsford to London, Ont., where Mr. Overend has a job as librarian.

On Wednesday evening, February 17, more than 40 friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Burch for a surprise farewell party for Dr. and Mrs. Fat Talbot.

The presentation address was made by Col. Poole. When Dr. Clarke and Archie Hardy brought in the gift, Dr. Talbot was presented with an instrument bag and Mrs. Talbot an overnight case. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the community. Of interest to all was the presence of Dr. Talbot's parents, and brother, Robert, of Westwood.

Friends of Mrs. D. Harvey (the former Rita Reid) are sorry to learn that she will be hospitalized for five or six weeks with a broken leg in Hanna, Alta.

Sharon Reid, who was injured in a car-bicycle accident last January 8, is still in hospital but is allowed out of bed.

OWLVILLE SPORTS

By RON WILLS

One of the poorest exhibitions of sportsmanship ever to be witnessed in connection with Kelowna High School athletic activity was displayed last Wednesday between Lambda and Gamma boys' basketball squads.

As far as basketball goes, the intra-mural hoop game was the least to say the least. And, as B. J. would say, that's real nervous. There were punches thrown, elbows being jabbed, trippings, chip-blocks and intended body checks throughout the encounter.

It isn't very pleasant writing about exhibitions of poor sportsmanship. And it isn't a glamorous topic to include within a high school sport column. But a thing like that should not go by without receiving the publicity it has come to it.

SLOW GAME

The encounter began around 4:30 p.m. and the second quarter didn't get under way until after five, when yours truly got fed up and decided to depart from within the walls of the Harvey Avenue gymnasium that was being used in the same manner as a corral with a variety of wild animals enclosed.

In fact, the "game" was of such a low calibre that Mr. Gowans, who along with Owlville graduate Joe Fischer was responsible for the handing out of the many foul shots, decided to call off the last two and one-half minutes and have them played yesterday when the boys were cooled off.

Mr. Gowans said he had more to do than stay around and watch a group of ill-mannered savages perform.

The way the clowns on the floor acted, you would have thought they were doing it for the benefit of the students in the stand. But I think the cage followers in the stand were just as peeved over the happenings as I was.

The girls' game which preceded the boys' display was of a more athletic type, with a winner being declared. Lambda edged out Cam-11-10.

COOTENAY TOUR

Golden Owls journeyed to Nelson and Trail last week-end for a pair of exhibition games. Owls lost their game at Nelson Friday when they were set back 39-32. On Saturday, they were downed by Trail High 48-34.

SPORTS CAMERA

Specially Written for The Courier By GERRY LOUGHEED (Canadian Press Staff Writer)

When it was announced recently that Rocky Marciano was passing up a March date and wouldn't defend his heavyweight title until next June, a lot of boxing fans began to wonder whether he is the type of champion who doesn't care to put his crown on the line too often.

There have been a number of heavyweight titleholders in the last 25 years or so who didn't seem anxious for title bouts. Rocky's record looks pretty good alongside theirs.

He has defended his championship twice since winning it about 18 months ago, knocking out Jersey Joe Walcott in a return bout and then turning aside Roland LaStarza.

The most willing champion, of course, was Joe Louis, who was sent into the ring every time his managers found a likely opponent. Some of them had no business being in the same ring with Louis in his prime but the champion drew big crowds no matter whom he faced.

Louis defended his championship 25 times in 11 years. That's an average of better than twice a year. During that time he was inactive for four years during the war, but when he was fighting he had bouts pretty regularly.

Walcott defended the crown only twice in 14 months, losing it the second time. The rest of the time he was boxing exhibitions with a number of second-rate characters.

CHARLES' RECORD

Ezzard Charles started out to be a fighting champion because it seemed nobody was busy about paying out money to see him in exhibition bouts. He defended the title five times in 21 months—with the last match proving once too often.

The two champions before Louis—Max Baer and Jim Braddock—were eager to show they really deserved the crown.

Baer quit fighting for a year after winning the title from Primo Carnera and then clowned it away in his first defence, against Braddock.

Braddock was even worse. He didn't lift a glove for two years and then was knocked out by Louis when he ventured into the ring again.

Many people consider Carnera was a sort of synthetic champion. But he put up the title twice in a year before losing it to Baer. Jack Sharkey lost it the first time out, a year after he won it from Max Schmeling.

So—except for the unusual record compiled by Louis—Marciano is appearing a bit more often than the average heavyweight champion.

All the champions like to make money. And as they prosper, so do their managers, who have two ways of gaining wealth.

The managers may prefer to have their fighters fight often, picking up a few dollars here and a few dollars there. Or they can unveil their most tickets on rare occasions, relying on the fans' curiosity and a big buildup of an opponent to assure a good-sized gate.

What path Marciano's handlers have chosen isn't apparent yet.
